

Elite Crete Systems manufactures a complete line of specialty construction products for the decorative concrete overlay and custom seamless flooring industry. Elite Crete Systems Pre-Mixed Overlays (which include THIN-FINISH™, TEXTURE-PAVE™ and MICRO-FINISH™) allow users to easily create various finishes that replicate that of stone, tile, marble, brick and more by starting with simply the addition of water. From there the coloring can be achieved using a combination of ULTRA-STONE™ Antiquing Stain, CHEM-STONE™ Reactive Stain or PCC & SYPP Colorants. And to top it all off, Elite Crete Systems manufactures a complete line of sealer and protective top coat finishes to protect the final application from heavy commercial traffic. The transition of conventional exterior decorative concrete overlays is quickly moving to custom interior flooring and MICRO-FINISH™ (part of the Pre-Mixed Overlay line) by Elite Crete Systems is leading the way.

Originally designed as an ultra smooth, steel troweled finish, MICRO-FINISH™ is finding its way into the commercial, high traffic sector normally found in expansive shopping malls, retail stores and luxury casinos. With literally unlimited color and design options, MICRO-FINISH™ can create designs that simply accent the surrounding theme or finishes that instantly attract the eye and become the highlight of the property. What started off as a small website where decorative concrete contractors could list their services has turned into one of the internet's most visited discussion forum sites specifically for decorative concrete overlay installers. With over 2,000,000 visits and more than 22,000 posts since October of 2001, concretelocator.com continues to grow while providing contractors, architects, specifiers and homeowners a discussion forum resource for sharing ideas, projects, photos and more. If you are a decorative concrete contractor or simply interested in decorative concrete, you should take a few minutes and check this site out.
