

Service, Experience & Innovation . . . Is Our Reputation

Elite Crete Systems continues to maintain technological leadership and product innovation through research and development expertise and a level of quality unsurpassed in the industry with one goal in mind... To assist our customers.

We have an exceptional understanding of our strengths and the benefits we have to offer our customers. Elite Crete Systems focus on the providing of "service" first and the "supply" of products second is our mission. After all, our name is built on this very important principle. Every person associated with Elite Crete Systems is dedicated to building on long term business relationships with our customers.

Product Innovation and Performance . . .

Our products are designed and engineered to make a difference to our customers. Innovation is key to creating a quality, yet user friendly product line that is not only easy to install but cost effective as well. Our hybrid-polymer modified concrete overlay products; THIN-FINISH™, TEXTURE-PAVE™ and MICRO-FINISH™ are "just add water and ready to use" eliminating the measuring and mixing of multiple components which only increases the chance of error. Our extremely versatile CSS EMULSION is a highly concentrated sealer with an adjustable solids content for meeting the specific needs of various applications. Our ULTRA-STONE™ is a user-friendly antiquing stain designed for adding authentic looking, natural coloring effects to thin stamped and textured finishes without the use of harmful acids, alcohol or solvents. And these are just a few examples of the product innovations we have to offer.

You can rest easy knowing that all of the Elite Crete Systems products are made to perform under the harshest of environments and traffic, setting a standard that has become the benchmark in the industry. With our products having been installed on high traffic applications such as shopping malls, retail stores, commercial parking garages, public schools and municipal projects, we have proven to withstand the test of time.

Only Elite Crete Systems offers such a wide variety of versatile, durable options for creating architectural concrete finishes and custom flooring.
